The Modern Library— An Amazing Sense of Place

We are inspired by the noble heritage of our public libraries and we recognize the powerful role of the library in the lives of individuals and its importance as a community resource.

The modern library interior must be multi-functional and meet the diverse needs of the staff and public. We offer products to fulfill all of those needs. We strive to design exemplary products that make us proud to be part of such communities.

Libraries represent the civic pride of the communities that support them and which they serve. Like librarians, we too understand and respect the importance of community and individuality. Our products are innately expressive and offer many options to tailor them to the uniqueness and beauty of any library interior. We build and design products around our company values: timeless design, natural materials, durability and quality. All of our products are made in Michigan.

TMC serves the librarian's mission, to keep the distribution of knowledge in their community alive and well, so the library remains a place where serendipity happens and curiosity can flourish.
